The Menzies Research institute (MRI) and the University Department of Rural Health (UDRH) awarded two Primary Health Care Research, Evaluation and Development (PHCRED) conference attendance travel grants in April 2008. MRI and UDRH are now pleased to two further grants of $1,500.

These grants are designed to allow a research-active primary health care practitioner to attend a national conference within Australia in 2008 to advance their research activities. In awarding these grants, preference will be given to presenters, especially if peer reviewed. Applications will also be considered to use the bursary funds to allow a national or international PHC researcher to visit the state to conduct research capacity building activities.
