The Menzies Research institute (Menzies) and the University Department of Rural Health (UDRH) are offering four (4) Primary Health Care Research, Evaluation and Development (PHCRED) conference attendance travel grants in 2008.

In the first round, there are two $1,500 grants available, one from Menzies and one from UDRH.

These grants are designed to allow a research-active primary health care practitioner to attend a national conference in 2008 to advance their research activities. In awarding these grants, preference will be given to presenters, especially if peer reviewed. Applications will also be considered to use the travel funds to allow a national or international PHC researcher to visit the state to conduct research capacity building activities.

In the second half of 2008, Menzies and UDRH will offer two additional grants of $1,500. Again these grants are designed to allow a research-active primary health care practitioner to attend a national conference in 2008 to advance their research activities. Applications for Round 2 will be called in June 2008.

First round applications close 5pm Monday 31 March 2008.
