Workshop Series 2009

Workshop 2 Qualitative Research Methods – Focus Groups

Presented by Dr Emily Hansen & Ms Danielle Williams

This workshop series will provide an introduction to focus groups in qualitative research and evaluation. The workshop will cover the following topics: Background to focus groups, including their history. Why focus groups are used and what they bring to a project. How to run a focus group. Some basic tips on how to manage and analyse focus group data. Some knowledge of qualitative research will be an advantage but is not essential. Dr Emily Hansen is the author of “Successful Qualitative Health Research: A Practical Introduction” and a Research Fellow in Primary Health Care at the Menzies Research Institute.
